

| Wednesday, April 5 th                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Thursday, April 6 th                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Friday, April 7 th                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 0930 – 1000 Arrival and registration                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 0930 – 1100 Public peace and public disorderThe necessary failure of public surveillance to detect terrorism – Floyd Rudmin, Department of Psychology, University of TromsøMotives and Values underlying the commission of murder in rural and urban areas of Sindh, Pakistan – Nazar Hussein Soomro, Department of Psychology, University of Sindh, Pakistan                          | 0930 – 1100 'Street peace' and peaceful housing and urban environmentsTowards a criminology of peace – working with street criminals and delinquent children – Peter Ndichu Muriuki, KenyaPeace making is place making, Place making is peace keeping – Stuart Talbot, General Manager, Yeast City Housing, South Africa |
| 1000 – 1010 WelcomeJochen Peters, Project Manager, Centre for Peace Studies, University of Tromsø                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1010 – 1040 Opening remarksOle D. Mjøs, Chair of the Board, Centre for Peace Studies, University of Tromsø                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1040-1100 Introduction to the conference themeDiane Lister, Academic Coordinator, Centre for Peace Studies, University of Tromsø                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1100-1115 Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1100 – 1115 Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 1100 – 1115 Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 1115-1230 Keynote speaker –Housing and the peace process in Northern Ireland – Paddy Gray, School of the Built Environment, University of Ulster, Northern Ireland                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 1115 – 1230 Keynote speaker –Neighbourhoods of peace, cities of hostility: exploring the socio spatial dimensions of peace and place in the 21st century and its implications for future cities – Karina Landman, Cities of the Future, CSIR, Pretoria, South Africa                                                                                                                                  | 1115 –1230 Barriers to peace and open discussion sessionHow high security zones hinder peace in Sri Lanka – Augustine Sosai Siluvaitathan, Department of Geography, University of Jaffna, Sri LankaChanges and the future? – Discussion and close                                                                        |
| 1230-1330 Lunch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1230 –1330 Lunch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 1230 – 1330 Lunch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 1330-1500 Peaceful and not so peaceful communitiesThe importance of place for learning about peace: The potential of summer camps in relatively tranquil settings – Tove Dahl, Department of Psychology, University of TromsøPeace at the edge of chaos: Communities and individuals as co-learning complex-adaptive agents – Larry J. Krafft, Temple University, Philadelphia, USA | 1330 – 1500 Governance, control and divisionBuilding the Tamil Eelam State: Emerging State Institutions and Forms of Governance in LTTE controlled areas in Sri Lanka —Kristian Stokke, Department of Sociology and Human Geography, University of OsloSeeking a pertinent and resilient form of democracy in Beirut – Rachid Chamoun, School of Engineering and Architecture, Lebanon |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1500-1515 Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1500 – 1515 Break                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1515-1645 Peace, territory and bordersA challenge for peace studies – de-ideologising contemporary notions of place – Alberto Valiente Thoresen, Centre for Peace Studies, University of TromsøHuman security as epistemological attitude and implications of value-ladenness – Kirsti Stuvøy, Department of Political Science, University of Tromsø                                | 1515 – 1645 Violence and Violence PreventionInformal justice in Belfast - Rachel Monaghan, School of Policy Studies, University of UlsterWhat works to prevent interpersonal violence? – A public health approach for peace research – Klaus Melf, Centre for International Health, University of Tromsø                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1645 Closing remarks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 1645 Closing remarks                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 1815 Trip to Tromsø Villmarkssenter                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 1930 Conference dinner at Sjøgata XII                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |

