

FELLESFORELESNING

Fredag 26. januar 2007

14:15 - 16:00 Auditorium S8

DEGW (founded by prof. John Worthington) is a global strategic consultancy focused on the design of the workplace.

The practice is committed to integrating research, strategy and design with a focus on designing for change.

John's presentation will draw on his experience of advising both corporate and public clients on matching their changing organizational demands to the most appropriate building solutions. His work spans from settings for collaborative work to rethinking the city.

John Worthington Designing for Change